Historical Sketch

The Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission (formerly Christian Life Commission) is an agency of the Southern Baptist Convention assigned with the task of speaking to the denomination on social and moral concerns and issues. The Commission traces its roots to the Social Services Commission, established in 1913. A.J. Barton, Hugh Brimm, A.C. Miller, Foy Valentine, Larry Baker, Richard Land, and Russell Moore have served as heads of the Commission. The ERLC is housed in the Southern Baptist Convention Building in Nashville, Tennessee.

Scope and Content Note

The CLC / ERLC Seminar Proceedings Collection (7.5 linear ft.) consists of proceedings, programs, addresses, news stories, correspondence, photographs, and conference planning materials related to a variety of seminars and conferences sponsored by the Christian Life Commission and the Ethics and Religious Liberty Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention. The collection also includes materials related to CLC sponsored state ethics workers meetings and Congressional prayer breakfast gatherings. The collection covers conference materials generated by the Commission from the late 1950s through 1999.

The major topics and issues included in the CLC / ERLC seminar proceedings collection are: abortion, AIDS, alcohol abuse, aging issues, Christian citizenship, drugs, economic issues, education, environmental issues, family, gambling, homosexuality, human rights, hunger, marriage, peace, pornography, race relations, religious liberty, sexual purity, smoking, women in church and society, and other social and moral issues.
