Historical/Organizational Sketch

The Protestant Church-Owned Publishers' Association is a trade association of religious publishing houses owned and operated by their parent protestant church bodies. It was chartered in Pennsylvania, June 22, 1951, with 24 member houses. The Sunday School Board, of the Southern Baptist Convention, was one of the founding members.

The organization exists to serve the common interests of its member houses. Its most visible cooperative achievement is the development and distribution of the Cooperative Protestant Religious Education Curriculum, a fully graded two-track curriculum produced in cooperation with the Religious Education Advisory Group of the Armed Forces Chaplains Board.

Membership includes 30 publishers, with two part-time staff persons. The headquarters is located at the United Methodist Publishing House in Nashville, Tennessee, and holds biennial meetings. The association has four committees – Armed Forces Curriculum, Membership, Education, and Projects – and publishes a bi-monthly newsletter, Roundtable.

Scope and Content Note

In May, 1985, the association designated the E. C. Dargan Library as the depository for its official records, which were transferred in early 1986 to the Southern Baptist Historical Library and Archives.

The records include 8-9 linear ft. and span the years 1948 to 1986. The records include the normal type of material for a trade association – minutes, financial records, meeting files, publications, and committee files. In addition, there are speeches and addresses, delivered at meetings, and photographs of the presidents of PCPA.

The records have been divided into five series:

A. Record Books and Minutes, 1951 – 1976: Includes minutes of meetings and executive committee, agendas, financial reports, and other reports (Boxes 1 – 4).

B. Financial Records, 1951 – 1984: Includes account books, audit reports, and tax information.

C. General Files: Alphabetical arrangement of general files, including committee files, meeting files, special projects, directories, handbooks, memos, reports of the Executive Secretary, Roundtable (newsletter), and speeches.

D. Moscow International Book Fair: Includes clippings, correspondence, exhibit catalogues, press releases, miscellaneous information about the PCPA's participation in the Book Fair (1979 – 1985), and correspondence from Bob M. Boyd, Executive Secretary of PCPA.

E. Photographs: The collection includes photographs of presidents of the PCPA and photographs related to meetings arranged chronologically by the term of presidency.
